BHARATI VIDYAPEETH

Nurturing Values Since 1964....

Established on 10th May 1964 by Visionary Leader Dr. Patangraoji Kadam, Bharati Vidyapeeth, the parent body of Bharati Vidyapeeth (Deemed to be University) is celebrating 60 glorious years in the education sector. Bharati Vidyapeeth today is widely acclaimed as one of the largest Educational Conglomerate in India imparting quality education right from pre-primary up to doctoral level through its 190+ institutions and 29 constituent units.

The ambit of Bharati Vidyapeeth institutions of higher education encompasses all professional disciplines which include the colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, Nursing, Audiology, Optometry, Physiotherapy, Ayurved, Homeopathy, Engineering, Architecture, Management, Law, Pharmacy, Hotel Management and Catering Technology, Environment Education, Physical Education, Health Management, Biotechnology etc.

Research today is at the center stage of every educational institution. Foreseeing it way back in 1986 Dr. Patangraoji Kadam founded two self-financed indigenous research institutes viz; R&D Centre for Pharmaceutical Sciences and Applied Chemistry; and Yashwantrao Chavan Institute of Social Science Studies and Research. Subsequently in 2001 International Research School for Health Affairs (IRSHA) was incorporated, which has collaboration with research partners from India and Abroad. These institutes have inculcated a research culture in the campuses of Bharati Vidyapeeth.

With a strong belief in social inclusion and living up to its mission statement 'Social Transformation through Dynamic Education', Bharati Vidyapeeth has spread its wings to provide educational opportunities to both the haves and have nots of the society by establishing campuses at Pune, New Delhi, Navi Mumbai, Kolhapur, Solapur, Karad, Satara and Panchgani.

The other areas include - Social Workers in Family, Women and Child Welfare Organisation, Research Officers, Medico Social Workers in Hospitals, Extension Officers, Social Welfare Officers in Panchyati Raj Institutions / Z.P. / Municipal Corporations.

Following are the career opportunities in the field of respective specialisations :

Family and Child Development :

The field of Family and Child Welfare encompasses a broad spectrum of social work interventions. The teaching and practice in this specialisation includes gender equity as a significant area. This specialisation strengthens an ideological perspective of equality, equity and democratic participation for the empowerment of the marginalised. It equips students to develop a critical understanding of issues and intervention skills especially related to the family unit, women, children, the elderly and persons with disability. Graduates of the Department of Family and Child Welfare are absorbed in a wide variety of settings, both in government and voluntary organisations, and in formal and informal sectors. Some of the settings in which they are employed are special and regular educational institutions (as counsellors), child guidance clinics, childcare services, adoption agencies, centres for children in distress, rehabilitation centres, family counselling centres, family courts, agencies working in the area of socio-legal aspects of violence against women and children, women's organisations, industries, NGO-corporate initiatives, national and international funding organisations, etc.

Urban and Rural Community Development

The nature of work in this field ranges from service delivery for community development, to organise communities for change and imparting training to local groups, government officials or other specialised groups. The students of this specialisation are also involved in providing policy inputs at various levels of decision-making within government agencies, advocacy work for the disadvantaged sections and documentation of development activities. The programme is designed to equip students with a sound theoretical knowledge about development of rural, tribal and urban communities and help them to develop skills and insights into working with diverse groups and their representatives at various levels, and to network with other groups and professionals working on similar issues. The programme consists of classroom work, which includes lectures, discussions, student presentations, seminar discussions with subject matter specialists, observation study of social and related agencies in urban and rural settings, etc. Concurrent field work under supervision provides opportunities to develop practical skills required of community work. The specialisation qualifies students for administrative and field positions in community development in the agencies operated by government and voluntary organisations. Job opportunities are available as instructors and lecturers in training centres for community development personnel, funding agencies, and as development consultants.

Human Resource Management and Labour Welfare

Students who opted Human Resource Management and Labour Welfare specialisation have career opportunities in reputed industrial and business organisations, service sectors like information technology, banking and finance, stock market, multinational companies (MNCs), Union and State Government Labour Departments, Government undertakings, professional institutions in the industrial sphere and such other organisations as are connected with Human Resources Management. They qualify themselves for the posts of Executives in the areas of Personnel, Industrial Relations, Welfare and HRD, etc. in large organisations / MNCs. Apart from class instructions, the education programme includes symposia, seminars, syndicate discussions, role playing, simulation exercises, hands on exposure with industries and presentation of cases, etc. One of the unique features of the programme is students' continuous interaction with the industry and society through its field work learning throughout the four semesters. Observational visits to industrial organisations, management housing colonies, staff training centres, government labour departments and non-governmental organisations are also arranged during the programme.
