Integrated Teaching

Adopting an integrated approach to teaching and learning means creating learning experiences that enable students to draw meaningful connections across their learning experiences and between their learning at different specialty subjects. It helps them understand how concepts are linked and can be applied in different perspectives related to specialties.

In this regard the lecture was conducted on the topic functional development by 2 specialties namely Oral Pathology and Orthodontics. Perspective of each specialty put together and presented where students are benefited by this knowledge.

Lecture was taken on 21st March 2023 by the department of Oral Pathology and Orthodontics for the 3rd BDS students on the topic of Functional Development.

Flipped Classroom

A flipped classroom is an instructional strategy and a type of blended learning. It aims to increase student engagement and learning by having student complete readings at home, and work on live problem-solving during class time. This pedagogical style moves activities, including those that may have traditionally been considered homework, into the classroom. With a flipped classroom, students watch online lectures, collaborate in online discussions, or carry out research at home, while actively engaging concepts in the classroom with a mentor's guidance.

In this regard flipped classroom model of teaching was implemented to enhance the engagement and interest of the students. The activity was conducted by Department of Oral Medicine and Radiology on 27th Feb 2023 where IV BDS students were part of the activity.

The topic was allotted to the students well in advance and adequate time was given to prepare topic. On the day of presentation faculty from the department of Oral Medicine and students of IV BDS had a discussion. Overall activity was well appreciated by students and faculty.
