- About the Session-

Homoeopathy standardizes medicinal plants to maintain consistency, safety, and efficacy, minimizing contamination and adverse reactions. Methods include botanical identification, chemical profiling, and stringent quality control. Common remedies include Magnesium Carbonicum, Magnesium Muriaticum, and Magnesium Phosphoricum, which address physical and emotional conditions. Homoeopathy also addresses tonsillitis through personalized treatments like Belladonna, Hepar Sulphuris, and Lachesis. Bach Flower Remedies, developed by Dr. Edward Bach, promote emotional balance and overall wellness through non-invasive, gentle healing methods.
