Notice regarding University Examinations for scholars of pre PhD course work – 2020 through online mode

The University examinations for the scholars of the pre-PhD course work will be conducted in the online mode instead of the offline mode. This change has been made due to the prevailing pandemic situation so that the scholars can attempt the examination from their own location online. Scholars may please note that examinations will be conducted through the remote proctored online mode and will be descriptive and not multiple choice questions (MCQ) mode. The details will be communicated immediately.

Scholars are requested to make necessary IT infrastructural arrangements such as a desktop/laptop/smartphone etc. and internet connection. The viva will also be held through the online video conferencing mode. The time table shall remain the same as declared earlier.
